Re: Proposal for a AI-powered Credit Intelligence — digitizing secured MSME and corporate lending to complement OrooDigital and Milkii

Dear Sir/Madam,

On behalf of Seqela, we are pleased to submit the enclosed proposal for Oromia Bank's consideration. The proposal presents a proven AI-powered Credit Intelligence — a digital credit factory for secured MSME and corporate lending that complements the Bank's existing digital strengths in OrooDigital and Milkii.

Milkii has already demonstrated Oromia Bank's leadership in fast, collateral-free digital credit. The enclosed solution addresses the complementary need: branch-driven institutional credit where cashflow appraisal, GPS-governed collateral, document authentication, and multi-level committees determine both portfolio quality and customer turnaround time.

In brief, The platform digitizes end-to-end secured lending — bilingual (English + Amharic) document authentication, a seven-step cashflow appraisal (MSME and corporate modes), field collateral with offline tablet support, and configurable Branch → District → Head Office committee decisioning — while integrating with core banking for customer prefill and leaving disbursement in the Bank's system of record.

The proposal includes live system screenshots, a problem-to-benefit analysis, a DECSI reference case, and a six-month path to a controlled pilot. We respectfully request the opportunity to present a 90-minute live demonstration to Credit, Digital Banking, Information Technology, and Risk leadership.

We are ready to commence discovery upon your guidance and to configure the platform to Oromia Bank's credit policy, hierarchy, and core banking environment.

Thank you for your time and consideration. We look forward to supporting Oromia Bank's continued digital leadership.

Yours sincerely,

For Seqela
